

Platteville School District
Vacancy Notice
Child Development Instructor

Platteville High School is actively seeking an experienced Child Development Instructor. This is a part-time position that includes teaching classes and supervising students in Teacher Assistant positions in elementary classrooms throughout the district. It is our hope that this position could grow, along with the program. Instructors that could gain adjunct status with Southwest Technical College would be preferred in order to provide post-secondary credit.

Classes Include:

Toddler Development

Students study infant and toddler development as it applies to an early childhood education setting. Students integrate strategies that support diversity and anti-bias perspectives; analyze development of infants and toddlers (conception to three years); correlate prenatal conditions with development; summarize child development theories; analyze the role of heredity and the environment; examine research-based models; examine culturally and developmentally appropriate environments for infants and toddlers.

Child Development

Students examine child development within the context of the early childhood education setting. Students analyze social, cultural, and economic influences on child development; summarize child development theories; analyze development of children age three through age eight; summarize the methods and designs of child development research; analyze the role of heredity and the environment.

The district is open to alternative routes to teaching certification. Highly motivated individuals are encouraged to apply by submitting an application through WECAN (Wisconsin Education Career Access Network). The WECAN website is <http://services.education.wisc.edu/wecan>

Platteville is a university community (population 10,000) located 70 miles southwest of Madison, Wisconsin and 25 miles northeast of Dubuque, Iowa.

Please phone: (608) 342-4000 or email: valenza@platteville.k12.wi.us if you have questions.

Apply as soon as possible. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.
